The Culture and Ethnography Workshop is a joint workshop of the Culture and Society Workshop and the Ethnography Workshop. It is an interdisciplinary workshop for advanced graduate students (second-year and above) and faculty whose research involves the connections between culture and society. Studies discussed in the combined workshop mainly use ethnography and other qualitative methods. New members are always welcome!

For more information, please contact:

Faculty Director:
Claudio E. Benzecry claudio.benzecry@northwestern.edu

Student Coordinator:
Xi Wang
cultureworkshop@gmail.com

---

Culture & Ethnography Workshop | Spring 2023

Thursdays, 3:30 PM to 5 PM, Hybrid & Online Meetings

3/30 Hybrid
Robin Bartram
Throwing a Wrench at the American Dream: How Covert Housing Assistance Sets Unrealistic Standards

4/6 Hybrid
Miguel Chavez
Wrestling with Belonging: Battling with the Social Construction of Cultural Gender Scripts

4/13 Hybrid
Xi Wang
Credentialing the Power of Healing: Expert Credibility of Psychotherapy in Post-Regulation China

4/20 Online
Mora Matassi
Digital Disconnection from Social Media through A Cross-platform Approach

4/27 Hybrid
Annika Pinch
A Rigged Game: The Difficulties of Navigating Digital Technologies after Incarceration

5/4 Online
Mariana Fried
Beyond the Silicon Valley Story: the Discursive and Local Practices of Urban Innovation Workers

5/11 Hybrid
Lisa Maria Breistein Sølvberg
From Symbolic to Social Boundaries: Investigating What People Say Versus What People Do

5/18 Hybrid
Sino Esthappan
Pretrial Risk Assessment Tools, Court Actor Role Identities, and the Strategic Uses of a Metric No One Trusts

5/25 Online
UC Santa Barbara - Northwestern Joint Meeting

Department of Sociology